WAS PUT OFF TRAIN AND GETS DAMAGES.

BRISTOL, VA., Sept. 25.—The most important case disposed of in Judge Coleman's court this week was that of Silas N. Christian, of this city, against the Southern railway. The plaintiff sued the railroad company for damages for the reason, as alleged, that he was ejected from one of the company's trains at Jonesboro, Tenn., when he had purchased a ticket to Morristown, Tenn., having been unable to convince the ticket collector that he had given him a ticket for Morristown. It appears to have been proved beyond a doubt that Mr. Christian had purchased a ticket from Bristol to Morristown. The jury returned a verdict giving Mr. Christian damages in the sum of $700.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, VA., September 25.—W. H. Renniger, of Patrick county, who was convicted in the United States District Court here a year ago of illicit distilling and fraud in connection with the revenue laws, but who secured a new trial upon appeal to the Federal Circuit Court, to-day pleaded guilty before Judge McDowell. The sentence of the court was for seventeen months in the Atlanta prison and to pay a fine of $1,000. The sentence in the first trial was two years and a fine of $5,000.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED TO DISTRICT CONVENTION.

CREWE, NORTOWAY, September 25.—A mass-meeting of the Democratic voters of Crewe precinct in the town hall here at noon elected delegates as follows to the convention to be held in Burkeville, Va., Oct. 1, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the senate from the twenty-eighth senatorial district to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge William Holmes Mann: D. W. Gills, A. L. Woody and E. M. Williams. The delegates were instructed to vote for J. J. Owen, of Prince Edward, as the Democratic nominee.

ASHEVILLE WANTS AUTOMOBILE ROAD

A Proposal to Connect Up With the Capital-to-Capital Highway.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ASHEVILLE, N. C., September 25.—An important subject that will come up at the congress called to meet here October 5-7 for the purpose of devising ways and means of securing an extensive system of good roads through the Southern Appalachians, has been much discussed during the past few days, is the construction of a road to connect this section with the proposed automobile road from Atlanta to New York.

As proposed, this road would begin at some point in Eastern Tennessee—Knoxville, in all probability—parallel the French Broad River to Asheville, and go into South Carolina through Howard Gap, connecting with the automobile road probably at Spartanburg. The advantages of this road are apparent. The chief would be the opening of this section to automobile tourists, who have heretofore to a large extent been kept away by lack of roads that would allow comfortable travel. By this road Asheville would be only seventy miles from the automobile road, while other mountain resorts would not be more than half that distance. Tourists passing along this route would thus be able to visit the mountains with less of not more than a day.

The country along this proposed route is generally conceded to possess the finest scenery of the Southern Appalachian Mountains, and many claim it is not surpassed in this respect even by Switzerland. In addition to Asheville, there are quite a number of well-known summer and winter resorts along this route, among them Paint Rock, Hot Springs, Arden, Hendersonville, Saluda and Tryon.

Delegates from Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, South Carolina and all parts of Western North Carolina indicate that these States will be well represented in the congress. Practically every county in this end of the State and many in the Eastern part have already selected delegations. No estimate of the number who will attend the congress can as yet be given with any degree of accuracy, but the number of official delegates will run well upward 1,000.
